

"In 'The Monkey's Paw,' the characters make wishes that lead to unexpected consequences. If you were given a magical object that could grant you one wish, what would you wish for and why? How do you think that wish could change your life—positively or negatively?"